UNEMPLOYMENT'S

BY-PRODUCTS

In 1928 the prospect of a depression was too remote to cause a thought among the masses of Americans. Harking back to those abundant days, it is recalled there was virtually a consensus that super-planning had dispelled the bogey of depression with as much thoroughness and dispatch as could be mustered by the nation's business men.

And then things began to slip. Slowly, but with a persistence that could not be denied. Finally, the masses of Americans were obliged to change their opinion of the super-planning in which they had reposed such great confidence. At present, it is generally agreed among them that the planning existent was inadequate to conquer forces operative over the entire world.

But, significantly, there has been no inclination to discredit planning as a means of averting cyclical depression. Rather there have been innumerable manifestations of confidence in the results planning could achieve were it to be done wisely and in plenty of time. It is a characteristic American response to trouble—out of failure will arise greater success.

A report prepared and issued by the Russell Sage foundation is an interesting example of this faith. It is entitled "Community Planning in Unemployment Emergencies." The report is based on a study of the recorded experience of previous unemployment crises and of emergency relief measures operative at present in 50 American cities.

The recommendation of the report, briefly, is establishment of machinery for unemployment relief that can be set up quickly by each community for itself to function as soon as advance signs of an emergency are apparent. Interestingly enough, the report assumes that there will be recurrent depressions; their elimination is, of course, a subject for special study. The relief machinery recommended would eliminate some of the by-products of unemployment, such as tight credit, lowered standards of living, disintegration of homes and the lower moral tone that often results from economic want.

The work would be accomplished, presumably, by developing resources for the relief of unemployed residents unable to plan for themselves; by distributing work to the best advantage among deserving local people; by gathering the facts as to local business conditions; by coordinating the plans and resources of relief agencies; and by providing "wise" publicity.

It is possible that many American cities will create machinery similar to that recommended by the Russell Sage Foundation's report. By coordinating relief agencies and preparing programs of public works in advance of their execution valuable service could be given. It is not impertinent to raise the suspicion, however, that no group of citizens would be capable of agreeing on the prospect of a depression far enough in advance to prepare for it adequately, or retained in non-paying civic capacities if they did happen to make a lucky guess.

SLAVERY IN LIBERIA

In October, 1930, the Republic of Liberia informed the League of Nations that she had freed all domestic slaves of the native tribes, had abolished the pledge of human beings as security for loans, and had ended forced labor recruiting by outside countries as payment for concessions. The announcement followed several years of investigation of labor conditions in the republic, particularly on the Firestone rubber concession there. The investigating committee was composed of one American, one Liberian, and a representative of the League of Nations.

Despite this assurance it was made known Wednesday that the United States warned Liberia on Nov. 17, 1930, that if that country wishes to keep the world's respect it would have to take more definite action than has been taken thus far; also that those responsible for carrying on slave traffic up to that time would have to be punished. Inasmuch as Liberia's customs and finances are under control of American advisers, making the country virtually a ward of the United States, the command hardly can be called peremptory, although it would certainly be so otherwise.

The fact that slavery still exists in the world is given scarcely a thought by Americans, partly due to the successful attempt made in this country to abolish the practice. However, Lord Robert Cecil, at the recent assembly of the League of Nations, estimated there were 5,000,000 persons in the world in a condition of virtual slavery. Most of them are in the tropics where it has been customary for European governments to exact forced labor on highways, railroads and other public works. The labor is often obtained by imposing taxes so burdensome that the natives can only pay by working them off. Most of the methods are "indirect."

Seeking an explanation for Uncle Sam's unimpaired warning to Liberia it is recalled that the Hawley-Smoot tariff act forbids importation into the United States after Jan. 1, 1932, of goods produced wholly or partly by convict labor, forced labor, or indentured labor under penal sanctions. The exports of Liberia, principally rubber, would be affected. Thus, slavery practiced to make money may have to be abolished to continue making money, thanks to a strong humanitarian feeling against it in at least one of the countries possessing the money.

What Others Say

IF GANGSTERS SCATTER

With a touch of pride, Chicago's United States district attorney remarks that, if relentless warfare is waged against gangsters, they will leave Chicago. The five-year sentence of Guzik, "public enemy," for federal income tax evasion prompts this official's optimism. Likewise it should encourage those Chicagoans who have seen how impotent the municipality has been in dealing with the gangsters.

But does this edict official realize that, if the United States government becomes the sole Nemesis of the Chicago gangsters, waging relentless warfare on them mainly under income tax laws and, if, as a result of this warfare, the gangsters do leave Chicago, Uncle Sam is thereby putting these gangsters into interstate commerce, in a manner of speaking? The gangsters will go somewhere, if they leave Chicago. It might be to Minneapolis, or St. Paul, or anywhere they might find local conditions favorable, politically or otherwise.

Very well. In accepting responsibility for prosecution, the federal authorities establish an obligation to continue such warfare in whatever area the gangsters seek a haven. There may be communities with enough force and self-respect to do their own house-cleaning. But there are others that might shirk their duty, just as Chicago has done. Does not the federal acceptance of responsibility in Chicago imply the larger duty of pursuing the gangsters, wherever they go, and waging a relentless warfare of extermination on them? The federal government, once it has scattered these public enemies, must follow them. Other cities should not be permitted to suffer from adoption of an effective weapon in behalf of Chicago—Minneapolis Journal.

NEW YORK
by O.O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Few cities are so storm conscious as New York. A quick flurry will desecrate streets and bring trade in shops and stores to a full stop. When dark clouds gather, the weather bureau is besieged by frantic inquiries. Foolish fear of a tidal wave has never been quelled.

At the Polo Grounds more than a year ago a sudden shower so terrorized the crowd a stampede resulted, costing several lives. A high wind is an especial horror for those convinced that one day some cloudbreaking shaft will buckle and crash to the ground.

Such towers are built to withstand the heaviest gale, and engineers say a catastrophe is impossible, but this does not allay taut nerves. Lightning creates a similar dread. Telephone calls drop to an astonishingly low level. Underground tube stations are packed with timid hide-outs.

Not in many years has lightning damaged New York mid-town, the tall spires acting as protectors. There are frequently freakish displays as bolts leap kites, from tower to tower, but never damage. Yet many upper story offices are completely prostrated until it is over.

Innumerable New Yorkers jump into feather beds and cover themselves until an electrical storm has passed. Receiving wards in hospitals always have their quota suffering what is known as "lightning hysteria," a semi-cataplectic state of stark terror.

High pressure life on the cramped isle has also developed another phobia that has attracted specialists. It is a sort of scrupulous neurosis which only flares out when its victims approach a revolving door. Three famous executives are notable examples of its sway.

They enter their buildings through side street or back entrances to avoid the whirling experience. Like lightning, the danger in revolving doors has reached the irreducible minimum. In a drunken hotel lobby riot one dawn a man's neck was broken in a revolving door. That sums up the casualties.

Many New Yorkers have a dread, too, of mounting to the top of the lumbering green buses. Yet the buses never capsize. The only tragedy of the bus tops was enacted several years ago when a passenger, rising to get off at a corner, failed to heed a conductor's warning and was decapitated by a projecting hotel canopy.

Nobody has suffered more acutely from stage fright than Al Jolson on opening nights. He often had to resort to sleeping potions for several days before the event and at a half dozen premieres it was necessary to "hold the curtain" while the comedian got hold of himself. In five minutes after he appeared his calm was restored and he was ad-libbing and functioning like a machine gun.

Two young actresses on the New York stage this season have made gallant come-backs. A sort of detour on way to oblivion. Less than four years ago they were whooping things up around Zelli's, Florence's and other Parisian hot-dots—all ready to switch from drink and drugs. But they are over their fling, working earnestly and living sedately.

Old lachrymose ballads are restored to favor. Night clubs feature them in the mellow hours in the effort emotionally to moisten the eyes of stay-outs. In a minstrel show in our town one performance a fat tenor wailed to the footlights and warbled: "Be Kind to Your Mother. She's the Only Mother You Got." And the town, reverently in the aisle and knelt out loud.

Many of us, I believe, have longed to organize a cabal against various types of singers who have been lifted to fame on a false scream or an odd delivery in the past few years.

The woods are full of them—Helen Kane, The Brox Sisters, Libby Holman, Rudy Vallee, Frances Williams, Helen Morgan, Adelaide Hall and Morton Downey. To my notion their voices are as spurious as the fat smile of a lady killer. Yet it cannot be denied each has an intangible something that grips across the footlights or over the radio. And that is what causes that clicking noise at box office windows.

Post card from Formosa: "I thought I rather enjoyed your column, but away off here I do not even miss it."

You'd be surprised how I can struggle along too without even an occasional postcard from Formosa.

Food Habits In Children

In considering the food requirements of children, we must always keep in mind the fact that they are still growing. Children are exceedingly active and every day increases the size of their muscles and bones. This increase can proceed only if proper and plentiful supplies of food are at their disposal.

As in the adult, the factors of wear and tear of the body must be considered. In the child an additional factor must be provided for, namely growth. If the food supply of the child is scanty, growth is retarded.

Milk should form the basis of the child's diet. The child should not be allowed to become indifferent to milk and never actually develop a dislike for the important food. Almost without exception, the authorities state that each child requires a quart of milk daily. We can easily change the old saying to read "a quart of milk a day will keep the doctor away."

In general the child's food should consist of milk, eggs, cereals, vegetables and fruits. Meat should be served occasionally, but not daily and always in small amounts. Foods should be either boiled, roasted or baked. I would advise against any fried foods for children. In preparing cereals they should be thoroughly cooked, preferably the night before and warmed for breakfast.

Rich and highly flavored foods are not advised. Children do not as a rule crave rich foods. They acquire the taste for sweets. The child who is not familiar with sweets will never crave them, and will be content with wholesome, bland foods. Condiments and spices are not to be included in the child's diet. These articles are intended to stimulate appetite and have no place in the child's food.

If children eat at the same table as the adults, care must be taken in the table conversation. If mother or father exposes a dislike for one particular food you may be assured that Tommy or Betty will soon indicate a dislike for the same food. Conversation at the table should at all times be pleasant and cheerful. Never try to tempt children with delicacies. Neither is it wise to bribe them to eat. It is best to depend upon healthy exercise and plenty of fires hair to create the appetite. All other methods are artificial.

The Stars Say—

For Friday, January 9

A rather unimportant state of affairs is read from the ruling lunar and mutual aspects. There is a sign of personal inharmonious and dissatisfaction, leading to depression, irritability and possibly minor quarrels or contention. Correspondence or the signing of papers may be the cause of confusion, strife and dejection. Be on guard against litigation because of these.

Those whose birthday it is need not expect a particularly active or eventful year. There may be a disposition to depression, irritability and impetuous conduct, which may precipitate unhappiness and perhaps litigation. Be careful especially in the making of legal papers. A child born on this day may be prone to contention and strife, which may react on its own happiness and progress.

ing population rejoicing, landed on the water of the Brazilian harbor of Natal, at 4:14 last Tuesday afternoon. Led by the Italian liner, General Balbo, they had "hopped" across the South Atlantic ocean, from Bolama, Africa, 1875 miles in 18 hours and 46 minutes.

That is real ocean travel. It was not the hop of one individual liner, for the Italian seaplanes flew the ocean IN MILITARY FORMATION. It is a marvelous accomplishment, a great honor to Italy and to Mussolini. How much surprised old Balbo would be to read about it.

Wall street is making a brave effort to be cheerful, like a little child, drying its eyes at sight of a striped stick of candy. Prices are stronger, money is absolutely a drug in the market.

The kind with which men speculate, "call money" was lent yesterday at one per cent. And cheap money promises to last a long time. On this occasion, probably, the federal reserve will not try to force up interest rates and that ought to help business recovery.

President Hoover in an encouraging address to the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce points out that the millions of Americans using automobiles are "not riding to the poor house."

The President sees in the department of commerce report, 3,500,000 new automobiles, made and sold last year, besides accumulated stocks disposed of and an increase of five per cent in the use of gasoline, as compared with "the highly optimistic year of 1929."

The President's reminder that one American in every 10 is, directly, or indirectly, dependent on the automobile industry, is important. The President says "hundreds of miles of new roads are being constructed every day in the world," offering new space to new cars and encouraging the industry.

Get a 1931 model if you can. Every American needs two homes now, one in which he sleeps, one in which he rides.

The United States recognizes the new government of Guatemala on the ground that the provisional Andrade did not enter office by a coup d'etat.

What difference how the President came in since he is in?

Our first president came in by a considerable coup d'etat, that included kicking King George out of the country. Napoleon third of France came in by a disreputable coup d'etat but we recognized him. Why not say to each country:

"Fix your own government and we'll recognize it, as long as it doesn't bother us."

GOSHEN YOUNG PEOPLE

Mrs. Hart and Lieutenant MacLaren Hope to Get Away Today on Next Leg of Paris Trip

HAMILTON, BERMUDA, Jan. 8.—Mrs. Beryl Hart and Lieutenant William MacLaren hoped to take off today for the Azores. They brought their white monoplane Trade Wind here from Norfolk, Va., yesterday on a flight with a "payload" to Paris.

Oil trouble developed during the flight, which, ending at 1:55 p. m. (12:55 p. m. E. S. T.), took six hours and 55 minutes, but it was insufficient to hamper functioning of the motor and repairs were expected to be minor. The side of the plane was splattered with oil.

Shortly after the plane left Hampton roads, Va., at daybreak yesterday, Lieutenant MacLaren said, bumpy winds and occasional rains were encountered. Skies were cloudy and during the greater part of the flight the ship kept close to the sea which heaved in mountainous swells making a landing impossible.

ACTRESS LOSES $14,000 IN GEMS, CASH IN HOLDUP

Lita Grey Chaplin And Georges Carpenter Imprisoned In Auto

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The kidnapping of Lita Grey Chaplin and Georges Carpenter as they left a theater puzzled police today. Mrs. Chaplin said she was robbed of money and jewels.

Mrs. Chaplin, former wife of Charles Chaplin, and the one time heavyweight champion of Europe told the police they were imprisoned in her limousine by four armed men, driven more than a mile and dumped out last night. Mrs. Chaplin said she lost $14,000 in jewelry.

Thugs Command Car
As related by detectives, Carpenter met the actress at a Bronx playhouse at the close of her appearance and they entered her car in a dark alley near the stage door. Two men, appearing out of the gloom, pressed revolvers against the chauffeur, Albert Frank, as he stood beside the car and two more cowed the occupants of the tonneau. Frank then was forced inside by one of the holdup men and drove away rapidly.

During the ride Mrs. Chaplin became hysterical and one of the men quieted her, promising she would not be harmed. Another ordered her to remove her gems, but when she did so, he was not satisfied.

He demanded money. Mrs. Chaplin gave him the entire contents of her pocketbook—$15.

Ordered Into Street
The victims were ordered into the street near an unlighted corner and their assailants sped away in the stolen car.

Six hours later the automobile was recovered by police, three blocks from where the occupants were forced out.

The actress listed the stolen jewelry as a necklace, two diamond and platinum bracelets, a platinum ring, set with diamonds and sundry ornaments.

Carpenter said he had $30 cash but this was not taken, and he was asked for money. Nor was the chauffeur robbed or harmed.

MARKETS

PROFIT TAKING LOWERS STOCKS

Market Turns Downward After Early Trading; Losses Small

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—After fluctuating indecisively during the greater part of the earlier trading today, the market turned downward under the influence of profit-taking. Losses, however, were small and trading was dull. Rails, utilities and coppers showed group heaviness.

Southern Railway, Atchafalaya and Allied Chemical dropped 2 points or more and there were declines of 1 to 1 1/2 in New York central, Southern Pacific, Northern Pacific, North American, American Telephone, Anaconda, American Smelting, Johns-Manville, Du Pont and Case. American Can, General Electric and U. S. Steel sagged fractionally.

WOMEN FLIERS REMAIN ALOFT

Bobbie Trout and Edna May Cooper Begin Fourth Day in Quest of New Endurance Record

(By Associated Press)
IMPERIAL, CAL., Jan. 8.—Their goal the 645 hour men's endurance flight record, Bobbie Trout and Edna May Cooper began their fourth day in the air today over Imperial county airport, whence they were driven yesterday from Los Angeles by adverse weather.

The feminine endurance team, which exceeded Tuesday's former women's endurance record, completed 82 hours of sustained flight at 12:30 a. m. today, despite rainstorms and mishaps that threatened several times to end the flight.

The skies in the direction of Los Angeles, 150 miles away by air line, were scanned anxiously by the aviators, who hoped for a chance to return to the starting point of their flight in that city. Their efforts at establishing a new official record would prove fruitless should they be forced down at any other point.

BIRTH CONTROL HIT BY VATICAN

Pope Pius XI Reaffirms Marriage, Divorce Doctrines

decrees or to any contrary pact, even of the spouses themselves."

The words of St. Augustine are quoted to put forward that of all the blessings of marriage the child holds first place; St. Paul, the pontiff said, "I wish young girls to marry to beget children, to be mothers of families."

Regarding Them As Talents

"Both husband and wife, however," the encyclical states, "receiving these children with joy and gratitude from the hand of God not only to be employed for their own advantage or for that of an earthly commonwealth, but to be restored to God with interest on the day of reckoning."

The second blessing of matrimony, the pontiff says, is that of conjugal honor in the mutual fidelity of husband and wife, and the words of St. Augustine again are quoted that the marriage rights may not be denied by either of the parties to each other nor permitted to any third person.

The encyclical binds all those indulging in contraceptive practices "with the guilt of a craven sin." Any circumstances such as health or economic conditions do not constitute an excuse, he maintained.

Hagan sued the board for recovery of his charge for transporting children to school. When the case was called for trial, no defense was entered and default judgment was entered. The board of education then took an appeal.

Fourth Quarter Rally Nets Salem Victory In Hard-Fought Cage Tilt

Salem High's varsity basketball team should add two victories to their season's record this Friday and Saturday when they clash with Niles, a Big Ten district league member, and Lisbon, the Stomachs' second Columbian county opponent. Niles has shown no outstanding power to date but is declared slightly stronger than last season when the Quakers won easily at Niles. The team is being coached by Robert Smith, former Cedarville college football and basketball star. Flashing unusual strength, Coach Stone's reserve squad has won four consecutive victories and appears to be one of the strongest junior varsity outfits formed here in years. Successive decisions have been won over Massillon, Alliance, Canfield and East Liverpool, the team amassing 108 points to 75 opponents. The varsity, in six games, has been outscored 152 points to 162, by opposing teams.

William Smith, tops the varsity scoring list with 44 points followed closely by Ed Beck with 36. Thomas French has 25 and Paul Sartick 17. Norman Early has, tallied 18. Richard Paxson eight, and Thomas Nedelka four. Gordy Seullion leads the reserves with 29 points, Culler following with 19. Lawrence Weigand's total is 17, other point-makers rating as follows:

Whitcomb 12, Pauline 9, Julian 8, Paxson 7, W. Sidinger 6, Catlas 4, Harris, P. Sidinger and Holioaway each two.

Coach Stone insists that too much emphasis is placed on the scoring of points in interest of fans shown in basketball games. Credit for wins, according to the Salem mentor, should not all go to the lads who register baskets, for defensive players certainly do their share, and often times more than their share, of contributing towards a victory.

There is no question concerning the logic of Stone's statements. Box scores are scanned by readers seeking to point out the high-scorers. The summaries though do not indicate the all-around play of certain other lads, those who prevent scores by opponents. In Akron recently agitation was started towards the elimination of publication of box

The Salem Saxons, this city's representatives in the Penn-Ohio German league, won their second consecutive victory of the season Wednesday night, defeating the powerful Buchey Bakers of Youngstown, 34-25, through a sensational last-period rally that netted 13 points and victory.

Each of three Salem cage teams playing invading court outfits at the Memorial building gymnasium, came through with victories. The Salem Midgets, coached by "Joe" Kelley, defeated a team of Rogers Midgets, the Altohouse-Brown Studebakers trimmed the I. G. A. Grocers of Rogers, with the evening's entertainment being directed by the Saxons' win over Youngstown.

The latter contest was a thrilling fracas for the first three periods, the game being hard-fought all the way with neither team holding any decisive edge until the fourth period. The Saxons held a 9-7 lead at the end of the first period but Youngstown rallied in the second quarter and was ahead, 18-15 at the close of the half.

Long shots by Hill and Flap gave Salem the edge in the first part of the contest but the Bakers' defense tightened in the second quarter to hold the home-owners to two field goals and a pair of fouls. Stiveson and Lyden led Youngstown's attack in the visitors' rally.

With its defense holding the Bakers to a lone field goal, Salem started on its way to victory in the third session and went into the final period with a one-point lead, the score being 21-20. Lester Older, who went scoreless for three quarters, ran wild in the final quarter to score 10 points, his offensive work being an outstanding factor in Salem's victory.

Taylor Trunks Win Over House Of David

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—The short hair versus long hair basketball series started a year ago between the Taylor Trunk girls team of Chicago and the House of David of Benton Harbor, Mich., has been decided in favor of the bob-haired girls.

The Trunks last night defeated the Israelites, 19 to 8, in a preliminary to the Chicago-Brooklyn American league game. The girls had a lead of 12 to 5 at the half and continued to improve their advantage.

They met four times last year, each winning twice.

Barnard Predicts Increased Strength For Indians In '31

President Of American League Reviews Past Baseball Season

E. S. BARNARD,
President, American League
(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—It is with satisfaction that I review the American League season of 1930, not only because the champions of our league won the world series for the fourth straight year and the third straight in my administration, but also because there was more spirited competition in our circuit than there had been for several seasons.

During the first half of the campaign, Washington and Cleveland each wrested the lead from the Athletics while New York always was a threat. Of course, the Athletics maintained a fairly safe lead the last two months of the season but Washington was dangerous almost to the finish, and Connie Mack was compelled to call upon Pitchers Grove and Earnshaw in and out of turn in order to preserve that lead.

Although such a statement may seem to be stereotyped, I actually believe that the race in the American league in 1931 will be even closer. Cleveland's young team, which has been strengthened, is sure to be more of a factor. Washington can be depended upon to put up another great fight. New York, under the management of Joe McCarthy, may be expected to be a greater contender than it was in 1930. I also look for Detroit to show improvement. And, if Chicago adds some punch to aid its capable pitching staff, it is going to prove more dangerous.

Outfielder, Pitcher Released To

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—The Chicago White Sox pruning season has opened.

Secretary Harry Grabner has announced the transfer of Emil "Red" Barnes, outfielder obtained from Washington last summer, and Lowell Douglass, recruit right handed pitcher, to the Atlanta club of the Southern association, to complete the deal for Shortstop Luke Appling.

Grabner said no "excess baggage" would be carried on the training trip and that Manager Donie Bush would weed out several more youngsters before the squad leaves for San Antonio, Tex.

Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Stribling Appears Assured Of Bout For Heavyweight Laurels

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—A shroud of silence enveloped the great heavyweight muddle today while all concerned awaited the arrival of W. L. Young Stribling and his manager, "Pa" Stribling, the key men in the question of who will fight whom for what championship. The Striblings are due this evening.

No matter who may fight or where next summer's championship battle may take place, it seems certain that Stribling will be one of the men in the ring. With Schmeling barred in New York, the Madison Square garden management began to move yesterday in the direction indicated by the state athletic commission—toward a battle between Stribling and Jack Sharkey, the winner to be recognized as heavyweight champion.

Plan Chicago Bout

At the same time, Nate Lewis,

Chicago stadium matchmaker, went about his preparations for signing the Georgian to meet Schmeling in Chicago.

Lewis, Sidney Siroz, president of the Chicago Stadium corporation, and Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's manager, wound up a long conference early yesterday morning and departed to make up for lost sleep without making any announcement but it was presumed that they had been attempting to find their way out of two tangles that may interfere with the proposed Chicago bout.

One concerned the poll the National Boxing association is now conducting as to whether the title shall be declared vacant, but it seems likely that the German will be given a period of grace if he shows signs of arranging for a title defense. The other involved the contract the Madison Square garden corporation now holds, calling for Schmeling to defend his title first in New York under the garden direction. Jacobs holds that the commission's action in depriving Schmeling of title recognition voided the contract.

SANDERS LEADS CITY LEAGUE IN POINT SCORING

Golden Eagle Star Tops Circuit; Miller Next With 20 Points

John (Pete) Sanders, star offensive guard of the league-leading Golden Eagle team, led Class A league scoring activities for the first four weeks, totalling 27 points in three games for an average of nine points a contest. Nineteen points registered against the Electric Furnace in the first league game of the season gave Sanders the lead.

Following Sanders for point-making honors is Clyde (Flash) Miller, scintillating McArthur Florists forward, with 20 points while James Scullion (Grove Electric) is third with 19. Joseph Costanzo (Electric Furnace) is fourth, registering 18 points in three games.

Golden Eagles Ahead

The Golden Eagle team, with three straight victories now to date, heads team scoring having totalled 79 points to 52 by opponents. The McArthur Florists are second with 69 against 74 by opponents while the Electric Furnace team has scored 66 to 92 by the opposition. Raymond Grove's Electric follows the Golden Eagle in holding down opponents to low scores, allowing only 58 points, but in turn they only registered 62.

Diser's 17 points give him fifth honors in individual scoring while four players, Nathan Caplan (Golden Eagle), Harry Vogeli (Electric Furnace), Lester Older (Golden Eagle), and Evan Jenkins (Grove Electric) have each registered 16 to share sixth place.

Other Class A point-makers rate as follows:

"Bunker" Hill Seventh
14; Andrew Tulp (McArthur Florists) 13; Max Caplan (Golden Eagle) 12; Bruce Cope (Grove Electric) 11; George Schmid (McArthur Florists) 11; G. Edward Scott (Electric Furnace) 10; Frederick Kirkbride (McArthur Florists) nine.
Raphael Reasback (McArthur Florists) eight; M. P. Ellsworth (McArthur Florists) six; Herman Litty (Golden Eagle) five; Floyd W. Stone (Electric Furnace) three; Chester Kridler (McArthur Florists) two; Clarence Siding (Grove Electric) two.

$40,000 IS LOST IN GEM ROBBERY

Columbus Clerk Kidnaped
And Forced To Open Vault

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 8.—A police dragnet was spread over the city today for three bandits who kidnaped a store clerk, forced him to open the vault, and escaped with $40,000 worth of gems from the Kay Jewelry company, on North High street, last night.

The robbery was not discovered until 2 a. m. when Edward Olander, the clerk, was found by his employer, handcuffed to the vault which contained the loot.

Olander was abducted half a block from his home at about 7 p. m. by the robber trio, who used an automobile similar to one owned by Olander's neighbors. They drove the clerk swiftly through early evening traffic, and when they reached the store, they forced him to open the door, and then unlock the vault.

Brandishing revolvers, they fastened the handcuffs and one of them knelt and scooped up the gems, mostly diamonds, and when the hundreds of theater goers milled on the street outside, they made their escape.

MOVIES

"THE PRINCESS AND THE PLUMBER"
At The State

With a mythical little principality in the Balkans as its setting and a delightful romance, sparkling with humor and unexpected situations, as its theme and with Charles Farrell and Maureen O'Sullivan in the leading roles, "The Princess and The Plumber" will make its initial appearance here at the State Theatre tonight.

The story deals with the love affair between the lonely little princess of Daritzia and the young American engineer who comes to look over the heating plant in her royal father's castle. Not knowing the girl is a real princess, the engineer gravely tells her he is the Duke of Manarock, and when each discovers the other's real identity, the basis is laid for a series of hilarious misunderstandings.

Farrell as the engineer and Miss O'Sullivan as the princess make a thoroughly delightful team, and their work presages many reappearances together. H. B. Warner is perfect as the impetuous Prince Conrad, and Joseph Cawthorn adds to the comedy of the film as the all-in-one official of the little village.

In the notable supporting cast Bert Roach enacts the part of the millionaire and Lucien Prival that of the unwelcome Baron, with Murray Kinnell as the sympathetic friend of the young couple.

"ANYBODY'S WAR"
At The Grand

Moran and Mack, the Two Black Crows, are starred in "Anybody's War", playing at the Grand Theatre. "Anybody's War" has fresh dialog, fresh gags, a fresh comedy treatment of the now-revived war film. The picture opens with a shot of the town clock resting on bales of cotton, in a warehouse below are Moran and Mack.

The gags are well-calculated and sure-fire. The business about the pack of boarder dogs which Mack hides in his home because he is a soft-hearted dog catcher and can't bear to do away with them is typical. War films, war novels, war reminiscences are having their day again. Here is the first blackface comedy aspect of the big scrap. It comes at a time when it will get a big hand—for there is nothing more welcome at any time than a comedy reprise of a stiff ration of popular drama.

Neil Hamilton and Joan Peers enact a romance through the picture, their troubles being solved by the "crows".

PILES

Ended Without Cutting or Salves
Thousands of Pile sufferers have learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves or cutting remove the cause.

Bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To end Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation and strengthen the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was the first to discover a real internal Pile remedy. He called his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1000 patients with the marvelous record of success in 980 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID from their own druggist with a rigid money-back guarantee.

Dr. Leonhardt's prescription has a wonderful record of success, right in this city and Lease Drug Co., and Broadway Lease Drug Store invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantees to refund the purchase price if it does not end all Pile misery.

Growing Deaf With Head Noises? Try This

If you are growing hard of hearing, and fear catarrhal deafness, or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears, go to Lease Drug Co., and Broadway Lease Drug Store or your druggist and get 1 oz of Parmit (double strength) and add to it 1 1/2 pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy, and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to take. Anyone who is threatened with catarrhal deafness or who has head noises should give this prescription a trial. Adv.
